End Training Plan

RCAF Is Ordered Partly Demobilized

By JACK BRALEY

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(CP)—No extension of the big Commonwealth Air Training Plan after its March 31 expiration date, its successor by a "shadow" scheme of small dimensions and partial demobilization of the RCAF, were announced today by Air Minister Power.

Power Says:

Staging Route To Help Speed Japan's Defeat

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(CP)—The RCAF-controlled Northwest Staging Route, built at huge expense by the United States and Canada after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, may contribute greatly to the war against Japan when Germany is defeated and the United Nations turn toward the Far East.

Possibilities of the northwest route were not overlooked by Air Minister Power when he announced today that the British Commonwealth will air the route. Air Training Plan would terminate March 31, 1945.

a report last week that the last air crew graduate had gone overseas and that many now in the training schools would complete their courses and join those just graduated in a civilian reserve. That was the announcement—predicted the end of the plan March 31 and the cut in personnel.

Previous Maj. Power had announced discharge of 2,000 air crew members waiting to start training, and announced that training would be cut in the air council and the closing down of many stations and training schools.

HINT ON JAP WAR

Today's nine-page announcement contained no hint as to what the future of the northwest route and Pacific operations, although a statement in regard to requirement estimates was made, and no hint was made to be made in personnel in the Japanese area.

Another section of the statement referred to the northwest Staging Route and said it "may yet be of vital importance in the next phase of the war."

"After I got out of the show that sort of kill just came over me again. I went to a bar and met Mrs. Linda. I told her I had killed a person another hotel. We didn't have any trouble at all. I hit her with my fist. I told her I had a knife with a razor blade, washed and left."

"PURE CUSSENESS"

Dr. Paul J. De Rivers, police psychiatrist, said Wilson told him he was a "real John Doe" for pure cusseness. His response, Dr. De Rivers said, left him unsure "whether Wilson is a sadist, a sex maniac, a combination of the two or an animal, because he is so completely unpredictable."

At Anderson Barracks, Terminal Island, where Wilson was engaged, told the author that his fellow soldier who was killed, did not get along with other workers and boasted, "I'm the master, I'll kill who I want to." He said, "I'll kill anybody more or less than I am. I'll kill him."

At the hospital, the commandant of one of the victims, pleased with the treatment to be allowed to face the court-martial, said: "I'm the U.S. First Army, the Germans threw in a heavy counter-attack against us. I'm the master, I'll kill them."

LT-Gen. George S. Patton's U.S. Third Army advanced slowly but steadily along the Saar front, and advanced northward toward the rich Saar coal basin on a broad front. The American Seventh and French First Armies balanced their weight on the Saar and Moselle valleys in the Vosges sector behind German positions indicating a general withdrawal.

Supreme headquarters received assurances that the First and Ninth Armies had made progress on a fairly wide front, overrunning a score of towns and villages in the Saar coal basin and warding off the first counter-blow after the Nazi recovery of Metz.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(CP)—Plans are complete now for rebuilding the House of Commons, damaged by bombs May 10, 1941. The cost, if the house finally approves the present rebuilding scheme, will be about $5,000,000 over a period of about seven years.

Diplomats Hail Dumbarton Oaks Peace Proposals

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The United States, under-secretary of state, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Soviet ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko and the British ambassador, the Earl of Halifax, last night hailed the Dumbarton Oaks proposals for creation of an international security organization as a milestone in the preservation of peace.

They were joined at a luncheon in the Soviet Garden celebrating the 27th anniversary of the founding of the Soviet Union and the 11th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The rally was under the auspices of the American Council of American-Soviet Friendship.

DEFINITE OBLIGATION

"To put every ounce of determination and effort into the task of creating a peaceful and advancing community," the statement said, "is an obligation which our country and all peace-loving nations cannot escape." Stettinius said in his prepared speech.

"I am not in doubt," he said, "that in the months the Dumbarton Oaks proposals will be completed."

Gromyko said in his prepared address that the Soviet delegation, too, was fully satisfied with the results. The Great Allied nations corresponded to the interests of all freedom-loving countries.

"The freedom-loving peoples of the world," he said, "are placing great trust in the proposed organization, which would be an effective instrument for the preservation of peace, and the suppression of aggression, in case it should develop."

SECURE FUTURE

Lord Halifax said he believed the close association of the United States, Soviet Russia and the British Commonwealth "rallying all the peace-loving forces among the nations, can secure our children and children's children a secure future in spite of the present tragedy."

"The recent talk at Dumbarton Oaks of the 'rebuilding' leadership of Mr. Stettinius," he said, "were a large milestone on this road. So, too, the speech with Marshal Stalin in Moscow on Nov. 7, in words that can round the world he so bravely so advanced the cause of solidarity of our grand alliance."

President Roosevelt said a massive peace effort "begs tribute we can hold out to our Allies that to continue fighting in every way possible to establish a peace that will endure."

"The Dumbarton Oaks conference was a step in the right direction. Other steps will be taken," continued the message, which was made public by the national council. "In line with this, the Canadian government, as you are holding in Madison Square Garden and in other great centres throughout the United States and of tremendous assistance and value."

VOICES WARNING

Colonel E. Davies, former United States ambassador to Moscow, who was honorary chairman of the rally, also voiced a warning against "assaults upon the unity of the three great Allies."

In his address, he said those who "should seek to foster or create accusations and hostilities between the peoples of the three great powers" "raise the possibility of war."

Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser said that "in view of the present war there will be no time for a period of reconstruction," and declared he had no fear of Russian competition. American industry, he said, salutes the nascent Russian industry."

Messages

War Secretary Ernest Bevin, Gen. Eisenhower, Vice President Wallace, Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, Ambassador to the U.S. George Marshall, Simon, prime minister of the Union of South Africa; Mrs. Winston Churchill and labor leaders Will Green and Philip Murray.

U.S. Democrats Have Plurality Of 53 Members

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A Democratic House of Representatives plurality of 53 members was elected yesterday in a complete unofficial roster compiled from the results of the election in the United States.

The lineage of the new House covers 193 districts 3 having the possibility that late voter counts may switch some districts will be:

Democrats 241
Rep. Progressive 136
American Labor 1

PREVIOUS MARGIN

Following the margin of two the Democrats held over Republicans when they went into the election, the new House elected three additional members to fill unexpired terms—until Jan. 3—which will bring the total to 53. The lineup now is 21 Democrats and 21 Republicans.

Progressive votes do not write in new Senate heads in Missouri and Pennsylvania, the new Senate will be this way:

Democrats 37
Republicans 38
Progressive 1

This will give the Republicans a net gain of one. Of the 35 Senate seats contested for, the 34 apparently won 21 and the Republicans 14.

Barlind Is Beaten By Yancey Henry

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Yancey Henry, youthful chairman of the 10th congressional district, defeated a 10-year-old split decision victory over the veteran George Barlind in the main event before a crowd of less than 1,000 persons Thursday night.

Henry, whose usual fast fighting style was bottled up effectively by the 60-year-old Barlind, weighed 194, while Barlind, a New Yorker, tipped the scales at 208.

General Denies Stand Reversed

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(CP)—Deputy Minister McNaughton in an interview yesterday said he had no basis for which he had reversed his policy of voluntary enlistment for overseas service were "wholly without foundation."

He said he had taken his stand on the basis of recent speeches in which he urged support for the voluntary system of recruitment.

He added the Tuesday meeting of commanding officers from across Canada "confirmed my belief more than ever that continuation of the voluntary system will provide the reinforcement we need."

Earlier Prime Minister Mackenzie King, through his secretary, had said he had no basis for which he advised Mr. King that the defense minister had reversed his views on the voluntary system.

Canuck "Little Joes" Do Big News Job On World Warfronts

By DOUG HOW

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS ON THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Nov. 17.—(CP)—The prize journalistic discovery of this Canadian war is Little Joe. Little Joe can be any Canadian soldier doing anything that can be translated into a paragraph or two for the papers back home.

Little Joe has flexibility and scope, but more than anything else, he has purpose. He is the charge of the army's press corps.

The illicit coupons were to be charged under prior board regulations dealing with the possession of illegal coupons. A number of arrests have been made in connection with the counterfeiting.

His beat is primarily the units, the men, the incidents the correspondents do not cover.

His outlets are the dozens of weekly and daily papers spread through the Canadian war zone, where the real story of the war lies not in the strategic implications of a 10-mile advance but in the personal experiences of the boys who grew up in their homes and played on the streets of Galt, Galt, Galt.

Speaking of the crisis leading up to the summons of the boys to the front, the Canadian has taken a very critical turn and the situation demands great wisdom and tact. He must be a Canadian and a Canadian who we are to arrive at our goal safely."

Dartmouth Obtained 33-33 Tie By Matching Cyclonic Attack

By RED GRANGE

The Original Man-in-Motion

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Yale inaugurated its long sojourn with Dartmouth, 1881 by besting the Green under an avalanche of scoring. The Elis locked tight the gates of mercy. The score was 113-0.

Dartmouth had the ball in Yale's end zone in 49 years when a hand of yours sent the ball to the Bowl from the Hanover Hills. Oct. 31, 1931, the highly-regarded Bulldog headed by the return of Albie Booth. There was no scoring in the game, but spectators stirred especially as the teams changed sides.

Then the break. It appeared as though Yale would come close to duplicating the 113 points of the inaugural. The Elis came home to earn a 33-33 tie, with Bill Morton's field goal from the 34 giving the Green the required points in the closing seconds.

BOOTH SWINGS INTO ACTION

Dartmouth drew first blood with the first of Morton's two place-kicks from the 24 and 33 yards held.

There was a cheer as Booth, Little Albie, they called this robust chap—came in. Before it had died away, the home-grown Boobs grabbed the ball and, with a lunge through the entire Dartmouth variety, 94 yards for a touchdown.

The crowd, lethargic till now, stood and cheered. It did not sit down again.

Taking Yale's kick-off, McCall was away like a short star. He passed the ball to the right wing, almost in the clear when a blue figure appeared from nowhere to break the play and score a 45-yard romp. It was Little Albie Booth once more, saving the day for the Elis.

Booth then intercepted a Morton pass, passed and took a pass for another touchdown.

It wasn't long before Booth was again. The New Haven youngster had a 40-yard run, then a 10-yarder and bolted 54 yards for his third and final score.

With the ball on Yale's 10 and only a minute to go, the Blue line twice failed to stop the Elis' advance. Then Bill Morton dropped back to give the Green an even break in a game they still talk about.

HMCS "Uganda" Canada's First Cruiser

During a brief but impressive ceremony, held recently at an Eastern U.S. Navy Yard, the powerful 5,000 ton cruiser "Uganda" was officially transferred from the Royal Navy to the Royal Canadian Navy. The first of two cruisers for Canada's fast-growing Navy, HMCS "Uganda", shown here, is 549 feet in length, mounts 9 six-inch guns, 6 twenty-one-inch torpedo tubes and is equipped with the very latest anti-aircraft armament. "Uganda" has a speed of more than 30 knots, carries a complement of some 800 men, and is entirely Canadian manned. Completed and originally commissioned for the Royal Navy late in 1942, "Uganda" played an important role in the invasion of Sicily and Italy. Later she moved up the Italian coast in support of the landings at Salerno where she was damaged by enemy aircraft. She subsequently made her way to the United States for refit.

Canadians Advance Through Lowland's Mud

Heavy rains and the smashing of dykes by the retreating Germans in Belgium and Dutch frontiers made both roads and countryside a regular sea of mud, throwing added obstacles in the path of the advancing Canadians. Top picture shows Canadian warriors advancing slowly in the rain and mud. Bottom picture shows a maze of wire and other obstacles that faced Canadians during an important advance through Belgium.

They Groom RCAF Lions

By Alix, wireless air gunner; LAC Fred Jenson, London, Ont.; Pte. Fred Ows, Horwicher, Lethbridge Alta.; fitter; Squadron Leader Moseley-Williams; Sgt. Bob Grie, Saskatoon, Sask.; rigger; LAC George Calder, Briercrest, Sask.; fitter; LAC Kelly Oscar, Swift Current, Sask.; fitter; and LAC Al Spearman, Sarnia, Ont.; electrician.

Borrowed

Modelled on baby's triangular-shaped basic garment, the swim suit modeled above by Pat Faraday in New York's showing of 1945 bathing suits, is an all-purpose two-piece, flowered job, lopped by adjustable drawstring bra.

Best of Breed

In an entry of 10 great dogs at the first annual dog show held at the Royal Agricultural fair at Expo, Ont., David Fidderman, Joe L. won the "best of breed" title. With Joe L. here is Lorna Mc-Pherson. Joe L. was also awarded first prize in the working group.

Mother India Is "Hostess" to RCAF Airmen

Off Secret List

Officially, this tough member of the Allied mechanized forces is known as the 15 cwt. armored truck, actually, it can be used as an emergency ambulance or an all-purpose load carrier as well as a battle wagon. Rolling on heavy-duty pneumatic tires, it can speed through underbrush, sand and shallow bogs, water and demolition rubble, carrying a good complement of men behind its heavy armor coat. The Canadian firm making these vehicles has turned out more than 2,000 of them. Until recently this vehicle has been on the secret list.

Prom Queen

With wistful watching by apparently seaman Ted Smith, of New York, his mate Tom Briggs, of Laramie, N.Y., crowns night club Singer Irene Woods queen of the Columbia University Junior-Senior Prom.

All Canada Represented in This Hospital Ship Group

A soldier from every province in Canada is in this picture, taken aboard the British hospital ship Aha when she docked at Halifax with more than 400 wounded men who were rushed to their homes across the Dominion in special hospital trains. Between them these lads have seen a lot of war. Left to right in the front row are Sjt. M. F. Garvey, Brandon, Man.; Pte. G. C. Smith, MacLean of Sydney Mines, N.S.; Pte. Z. P. LeBlanc of Moncton, N.B. and Pte. R. A.

Mahar of Montreal, P.Q. The rear row shows Dvr. W. G. Gandy of Galt, Ont.; Pte. R. W. Hornsby of Vancouver, B.C.; Rfm. C. A. Loxton of Neepawa, Man.; Cpl. P. C. Chapman of Peace River, Alta.; and L-Cpl. Matthew Gress of Bromhead, Sask. Garvey and Smith suffered their wounds in Italy, while the remainder saw action in Africa, the Mediterranean and the British Isles, fighting at Bayeux, Carpate, Falaise, Corseilles and Caen as the Canucks drove into France.

Awarded DFC

Pil-Lt. W. G. Phelan of Toronto, Ont., was recently awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for gallantry in attacking a fort site in France. He is a member of the RCAF bomber group's Alouette Squadron.
